

Constructor.

It is a special function.

used to create object.

It has the same name as class name.

Automatic call and creation of objects.

Bulk creation of variables inside class.

Default - No parameters

parameterized - has parameters.

Overloading.

multiple constructors with same name as class name but with different parameters.

Types :

> Default

> parameterized

>

Copy constructor

copy of existing constructor.

It's a special constructor

It copies one value to another constructor (constructor object name)

This keyword

This refers to the current object in the class

used when local variable and instance variables that has the same name.

can be used in both constructor and normal methods